Dated this the 8th day of February, 2007.

JUDGMENT

Heard.

The petitioner requests that following Ext.P1, the residential building of the petitioner may be kept apart and the balance put to sale at the first instance. This is a matter that should gain attention only of the respondent since it is not for this Court to enter upon an adjudication as of now, on the question whether the land excluding the building could be sold and if the petitioner makes appropriate request, the competent among the respondents will consider such request within two weeks of the production of a copy of this judgment or filing of such representation, whichever is later. Any dispossession from the building will stand deferred by three weeks.
